Another national chef comes to Dallas

Anyone heard of Blue Canyon Kitchen, Tavern and Wine Bar or Chef Brandt Evans? I think I saw him on Food Network or something. At any rate, this place is supposed to be another outstanding 4-star place with upscale seafood and steak. Only instead of being clustered in Uptown, it's off of Lake Ray Hubbard in The Harbor. It opens end of January. Sounds like it's definitely worth the trip down I-30.
